THE VERY MEDICATING INVICORATING CORDIAL

NENCE, OR NOCTURNAL EMISSIONS, &c.—The astonishing success which has attended this invaluable medicine, for Lots of Muscular Energy, Physical Lassituite, and General Prostration, or any of the consequences of youthful indiscretion, or indulgence of the passion in riper years, renders it the most valuable preparation ever discovered. In fact, as a remedy for the above complaints, it stands unrivalled and alone. There is no other reliable remedy, or any that has authentically received the sanction of the Medical Faculty. The WONDERFUL VEGETABLE PRODUCTION of which this medicine is composed has been tested, and its virtues proclaimed, by the highest names of the faculty of London, Paris, and the chief cities of Europe, as well as by eminent Physicians in this country. It is the only infallible rentedly for NERVOUS, HEAD, and MIND OGMPLAINTS—the miental physics so long sought for and never before found—the only agent that can administer to MIND DISRASES. It will remove all nervons affections, DEPRESSION, EXCITEMENT, incapacity to study or busi-DEPRESSION, EXCITEMENT, incapacity to study or business, loss of MEMORY, CONFUSION, thoughts of selfdestruction, fear of insanity, &c. It will restore the appetite, renew the health of those who have destroyed it by Sensual Excesses or evil practices. It has been said by some that those disorders, emissions, &c., were incurable. This, however, is not the fact. that these disorders, emissions, &c., were incurable however, is not the fact.

and is constantly curing, these complaints—relieving the mental and bodily incapacity of the unfortunate sufferer, a tile following testimony of the names received will conclu-

the following testimony of the names received will conclusively show:

Dr. Woodward, of ——, Maszachusetts Insane Hospital, writes of one of his patients being cured by using this Cordial thus: "It gives me pleasure to inform you that one of my patients, while in Boston, procured some of your Cordial. He tells me that he has not had a single emission hine he commenced taking it, while before he had two or three a week. When he applied to me," says Dr. W., "I thought it hardly possible for him ever to regain his full strength. I prescribed the usual medicine used in those cases in the hospital, but they had no effect. In the mean time he purchased some of your Cordial, which has effected a cure I am sure his other medicine would. I shall ever recommend it, whenover an opportunity occurs."

a curs I am sure no other medicine would. I shall ever recommend it, whenever an opportunity occurs."

The nature of the maladics relieved by this Cordial are generally such as to leave the publication of certificates of cures out of the question. The proprietor could produce a host of the most cenciustve testimony te show that the great reputation it enjoys was not accidentally obtained, but is firmly based upon its positive and apparently miraculous virtues. In all directions are to be found the happy parents of healthy offsprings, who would not have been so but for this extraordinary preparation. And it is equally potent for many diseases for which it is recommended.

THE MEDICAL JOURNALS have not, in a single instance that has been sutheuticated, given their sanction to any other preparation for the above complaints. It has, in many violent and desperate cases, effected radical cures, after patients had been abandoned, and their condition pronounced hopeless by me lical practitioners of high professional character.

of those who have used this Extract is: "I had heard your Cordial highly spoken of, but was one of the incredulous in regard to its merits, baving tried various medicines sold for the same purpose, (different Sarsaparillas,) without deriving any benefit. I had almost given up all hope of obtaining relief, when I purchased some of your Cordial. I had no faith whatever of its benefiting me—but it has. I feel stronger, have had no emissions since, although it is not three weeks. I am satisfied that the half a dozen bottles I took will cure me."

Another says: "I had conculted several distinguished physicians. Some said I could not be cured; others prescribed this thing and that; but I found no relief until I procured some of your Cordial. I must say it completely

Another says: "I was surprised at the effect your Cordial had. Why had I not heard of it before? It would have saved me so much expense, besides years of mental and bodily suffering."

CAUTION.—Ask for Dr. Morse's Cordial, and take no other, as there are worthless imitations which its unrivalled excellence, fame, and popularity have brought into the market. It will not hurt the most delicate female, but do good. Beware of all other Cordials, &c., and try only this. It is put up in pint bottles, with the words Dr. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL blown on the glass. Price $3 per bottle; two bottles, $5; six bottles, $12; and $24 per dozen.

SECRET DISEASES

that has ever yet been presented to the world. By his plan, founded on observation made in the Hospitals of Europe and America, he will insure

ACURE IN TWO DAYS,

A CURE IN TWO DAYS,

OR NO CHARGE.

No Mercury or Nauscotta Drugz uzed.

Weakness, Loss of Organic Powers, Pains in the Loins, Disease of the Kidneys, Affections of the Head, Throat, Nose and Skin, Constitutional Deblitty, and all those horriz affections arising from a Certain Secret Habit of Youth, that soltiary practice, more fatal to its victims than the song of the Syrens to the mariners of Ulyases—blighting their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, rendering Marriage, etc., impossible.

A CURE WARRANTED, OR NO CHARGE. A CURE WARRANTED, OR NO CHARGE.
Young Men especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or waked to ecstacy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE.

Mayried persons of these contemplating marriage being may call with full considence.

MARRIAGE.

Married persons, or those contemplating marriage, being aware of physical weakness, should immediately consult Dr. J., and be restored to perfect health.

Office, No. 7 South Frederick street, Baltimore, Maryland, on the left hand side, going from Baltimore street, seven doors from the corner. Be particular in observing the name and number, or you will mistake the place.

DR. JOHNSTON,

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known. Many troubled with ringing in the ears and head when asleep, great nerrousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by private and improper indulgences, that secret and solidary habit, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business or society.

habit, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business or society.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, vis: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Palms in the Head, Dinness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c., &c.

Mentally.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion of Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

NERVOUS DEBILITY.

Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

NERVOUS DEBILITY.

Weakness of the system, Nervous Debility and premature decay generally arise from the destructive habit of youth, that solitary practice so fatal to the healthful existence of man, and it is the young who are most apt to become its Victims, from an ignorance of the dangers to which they subject themselves. Parents and Guardians are often misled with respect to the cause or source of disease in their sons and wards. Alsa how often do they ascribe to other causes the wasting of the frame, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, derangement of the Nervous System, Cough, and Symptoms of Consumption; also those serious Mental effects, such as loss of Memory, Depression of Spirits, or peculiar fits of Melancholy, when the truth is, they have been caused by indulging in Pernicious but alluring practices, destructive to both Body and Mind. Thus are swept from existence thousands who might have been of use to Society.

trom existence thousands who might have been of use to their Contry, a pleasure to their friends, and ornaments to Society.

DR. JOHNSTON'S INVIGORATION REMEDY FOR ORGANIC WEAKNESS.

This grand and important Remedy has restored strength and vigor to thousands of the most debilitated individuals, many who had lost all hopes, and been abandoned to die. By its complete invigoration of the Nervous System, the whole faculties become restored to their proper power and functions, and the fallen fabric of life is raised up to beauty, consistency and duration, upon the ruins of an emaciated and premature decline, to sound and pristine health. Oh, how happy have hundreds of misguisted youths been made, who have been suddenly restored to health from the devastations of those terrific maladies which result from indiscretion! Such persons, before contemplating.

MARRIAGE, should reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote commubial happiness. Indeed, without this, the journey through life becomes a weary pillerimage; the prospect hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes standowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of mother becomes blighted with our own. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. Johnston may religiously confide in his honor as a Gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a Physician.

The many thousands cured at this institution within the The many incusants core at this institution within the last ten years, and the numerous important Surgical Operations performed by Dr. J., witnessed by the Reporters of the fispers and many other persons, notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, is a sufficient guaranty that the afflicted will find a skilful and honorable guara. Ty that the afflicted will find a skilful and honorable physician.

TAKE NOTICE.

It is with the greatest reluctance that Dr. Johnston permits his card to appear before the public, deeming it unprofessional for a physician to advertise; but unless he did so, the afflicted, especially strangers, could not fail to fall into the hands of those imprudent, boasting impostors—individuals destitute of knowledge, name, and character—pedlars, shoumakers, mechanics, &c., advertising themselves as physicians; ignersant queake, who keep you trilling month after month, as long as possible, and in despair leave you with rulned health to sigh over your gailing disappointment. It is this metive alone that induces Dr. J. to advertise, for he alone can cure you. To those unacquainted with his reputation he deems it necessary to say, that his credentials or diplomas always hong in his Office.

[For the Daily American Telegraph.] THE HERO WITH NEVER A SCAR!

When first I heard of Franklin Pierce Twas on a bright June day, While at Baltimore some half a score Stood in each other's way; And Douglas, Buck, and General Cass, And all who entered the "ring," The locos there gave up in despair,

Oh! the hero with never a scar, To show that he was in the war, But who fainted and fell, and that's all they can tell Of the hero with never a scar!

In the battle-fields of Mexico. Where Scorr fresh laurels won, Unlucky Pierce, for a warrior fierce, Too often missed the fun; Or, if on hand, to lead his men

To deeds which Fame would note,

His heart would swell, with some sick "spell," Till it stuck fast in his throat! The hero with never a scar,

Who "noses" the battle "afar!" And falls faint, like a corse, from his stumbling horse, The hero with never a scar! Frank Pierce 'round him may gather

But the thousands who won't vote for him "By far outnumber these;" For in the South he goes the "Compromise"-The best friend the Union e'er saw-While at the North he's anti-fugitive, And declares he "louthes" that law!

Some b'hoys who enjoy his sprees,

Oh! the hero with never a scar, The voters from "near and far" Will not value a button, one who's "fish, flesh, or mutton," Like this hero with never a scar!

I would ne'er support for President A hero without a name, Except for buying a candy-stick, And giving a boy "that same!" But give me a General who bravely fights,

And does not quail at a shot, hero with never a scar!

American Catechism. CHAPTER II.

HOW SCOTT TREATED HIS MEN.

Q. Well, how did General Scott use his men! As mere mechanical engines, to contribute to his glory-and then be trampled on like an exploded shell, when wounded, sick, or dying?

A. Sir, such inhumanity would not only have sullied the moral grandeur of Scott's character, but vilely tarnished his military fame. I will proof that, lion-hearted as he is, the most tender and genuine feelings of humanity have always governed his conduct towards his men. Q. Assertions are good-but proofs more worthy of reliance. To be truly great, a man must be morally good. Belial was the most astute statesman in Pandemonium, and Beelzebub a military tactician of dauntless courage; but after all they were only-devils. Name these incidents. A. You have heard of the battle of Queenstown Heights? Q. On which occasion your great General struck his flag to the banner of St. George-was him there, surely, A. I surely will. feated by overwhelming numbers; but not until short but awful conflicts with the angel of deathhe had kept the enemy so long at bay that they began to suspect there was a concealed army in his rear. But, discovering their mistake, they bore down on the little band like an avalanche, and it was only when he saw the utter hopelessness of his position, and the approaching de-all the honors of war. Q. That was well. Courage without discretion to do with Scott's fraternal sentiments towards did, who might have supported him in his peril-his men? frigate lying near, and conveyed to England to undergo the fate of traitors; that is, in plain anguage, to be hung and quartered.

Q. Where was Scott, while his men were being picked over in such a way? A. He was below, deprived of his arms, a prisoner like themselves; but, hearing a bustle on deck, and fearing that his men were being ill used or tampered with, he quickly ascended, and approached the melancholy group. It required but a moment's observation for him to discover question others, heedless of all consequences to Speak not another word." They obeyed him, words ensued between him and the British officers,-he was repeatedly ordered to go below; but he regarded not the arrogant commands, and barangued his men, especially those who were condemned, and told them in the face of their captors that "they would and should be protected by the laws of the land for which they had battled-that retaliation of the severest kind should ensue, and, if necessary, a refusal to give quarter in battle. If a single life of these naturalized citizens were touched, they should be avenged in every battle." Infuriated to be thus set at defiance by an unarmed prisoner, the English officers again and again ordered him below; but they knew not their man. Had it been for himself, and toil of the day, the chances and perils of upon your assistance?"

battle-his men for whom he appealed and contended. They went to England loaded with felons' chains, and he to Washington, (having been exchanged,) where his first business was to attend to the safety of his Irish soldiers. The matter, upon his representation, was taken warmly up by the government, and a law passed both houses of Congress, without delay, vesting the President with the power of retaliation.

Q. Did Scott push this matter himself? A. Day and night; and it was by his exertions that it was so promptly attended to.

Q. This was making a great national "fuss" about a few poor Irishmen!

A. It was. That is just what the British thought about it, when at the battle of Fort George they were beaten "over the hills and far away" by the gallant Scott, and from among the numerous prisoners taken he selected twentythree English and Scotchmen, careful not to include a single Irishman, and sent them under a guard into the interior of the country, to abide the fate of his men in England. Q. Humph! how did it end?

A. They came home safe, where their noble commander, Col. Scott, received them, not with hauteur or pride or state, but a hearty and generous welcome; nor an empty welcome, either, but one which included for them land bounties, long arrearages of pay, and the full rights of citizenship.

Q. He could not have done more for his staff. A. Certainly not. You see, however, in this one instance, how he used his men-not his counrymen, but naturalized foreigners. May Heaven send old Ireland such a leader.

Q. I fear you are a rabid Whig.

A. Not an English Whig-I have too much Irish blood in my heart for that, and, in view of the diabolical oppressions of English Whiggery, almost loathe the name. My countrymen will one of these days learn that, by avoiding American Whig principles, they run into the jaws of their old enemy, who is masked under the guise of Democracy. English Whiggery and American Democracy are twins.

Q. Well, well! let us avoid a political discussion. Can you name any other incident in Gen. Scott's career to illustrate the position he holds towards his men? One swallow does not make a summer. Probably that was all done for effecthe's fond of "feathers," you know.

A. Only where there is a "fuss," remembersuch a fuss as made the dragon of St. George fly roaring back to Britain, and hushed the old warcry of "St. Iago, to the rescue!" on the plains and sierras of Mexico. But there are scenes in name a few incidents which will exhibit strong his life worth all of this-in fact, the moral grandeur of the old chieftain's character makes alone a hero of him.

Q. But those scenes?

A. Were you ever surrounded by the horrors of Asiatic cholera? Q. Not only surrounded by it, but endured every torture its pangs could inflicts! A. Then you know that as noiselessly as it swept down from the ice-peaks of Russia, and went mowing down its tens and hundreds of thousands in Europe, just so noiselessly it landed on our shores—a foe more to be dreaded than an "army with banners," for no man knew the art of contending with an enemy so insidious and deadly. defeated and taken prisoner. You won't boast of Gen. Scott was then on his way with his men to the seat of the Black Hawk war, but, ere he reached the red man's territory, the " tary career has General Scott exhibited so much horse and his pale rider" swept through their cool, dauntless courage, or high, ennobling qual- midst, and one after another-fives, tens, twenities, as on this. commanding officers? A. Their General was in their midst, ministering to their wants, and soothing, by personal attention, their death pangs. And mark you-he struction of his men, that Scott surrendere I with was under no responsibility to do this. He could have issued general orders to his medical men and others, and fled without blame or reproach s brutal. But how in the deuce had this aught from this scene of pestilence and death, as some ous exertions. Morning, noon, and night, he A. Listen. But the mission of the destroyer was accomplished-the old veteran had disputed the way inch by inch with him, and snatched many a victim from his grasp, by an exercise of humanity which, under the circumstances, was sublime. Q. Why do the Democrats abuse him so heartily? A. Why do dogs bay at the moon? Why do boys throw only at the rarest and ripest fruits? Why do birds pick only at the finest cherries? Or what was going on, and, as they proceeded to tell me why moths are so silly as to fly right into a blazing light, where they are consumed for their himself, he shouted, in a voice of command that pains? -merely as a military man, understand ! A. Why don't you warm yourself up at the blazing fires of the noble Percy's fame?

Q. Humph !-good night ! A. Hocus Pocus! Aha! Come soon again, SAMPSON.

During the recent elections in Great Britain. one of the candidates for Edinburg called upon a tradesman to solicit his vote. "I would rather the stranger citizens of his beloved country—the poor fellows who had borne with him the heat and toil of the devi the character ward," said the candidate, "might I then count
